SEE THE WORLD...IT'S A GAME CHANGER

Business students who can point to study abroad experiences on their resumes enjoy a competitive advantage in the marketplace. Employers seek students who can present evidence of a meaningful international study during their academic program.

Intrinsically, a study abroad experience will change you forever, giving you:

- Global awareness
- Cultural awareness and cross-cultural skills
- Leadership skills
- Expanded interests
- Self-awareness
- New friends and networks
- Increased language skills

The Mike Ilitch School of Business offers a growing array of faculty-led study abroad programs to Europe, Asia and South America, with new destinations in development. The Ilitch School also enjoys worldwide affiliations with colleges and universities on every continent, providing our students with individual, term-long study options.

INDIVIDUAL EXCHANGE PROGRAMS

Individual exchange programs differ from faculty-led study abroad experiences primarily because they are frequently longer in length and you'll travel on your own to the host university. If you decide on an individual exchange program, you'll work closely with your advisor at the Ilitch School and WSU's Study Abroad & Global Program Office to learn how it may apply toward your degree. You'll have a lot to choose from, as we offer opportunities to study in 12 different countries.

FACULTY-LED PROGRAMS

Each of our faculty-led programs exposes you to new cultures, cuisine, language and locations, all serving to expand your appreciation and knowledge of the destination you selected. Just as importantly, you will learn about international business practices from our network of corporate friends based in the international cities you'll visit and who will guide you through their plants and offices on observational tours. These two- to four-week programs take place over the summer or during academic breaks.

BRAZIL

Experience one of the most resource-rich countries in the world and increase your knowledge and appreciation of sustainability in global supply chains, Brazilian culture and history, and the Brazilian auto industry.

CANADA

Travel to Quebec, Montreal, Toronto and Hamilton to learn about Canadian business and management practices, where you will discover leading industries and companies.

ITALY

Tour Italian companies that are either headquartered or have a major presence in Southeast Michigan, including Fiat, Maserati and Mopar as you travel through Turin, Rome and Naples.

CENTRAL EUROPE: GERMANY & POLAND

Travel to Berlin, Krakow and Wroclaw to learn about a variety of Eastern European companies and corporations that have left a mark on the international business community.

CHINA

During this fast-paced deep dive into business in one of the world's biggest and fastest-growing economies, you'll tour corporate manufacturing and distribution facilities as well as cultural landmarks, and you'll have the opportunity to take a global supply chain course at Wuhan University.
